

Protect your revenue with Axis.

AUDIT CONTROL AXIS™ BY QUADAX

As RAC audits once again take center stage you are right to be concerned about the hit on your revenue that may be just around the corner. You need the tools to both fulfill your obligation to the auditors but also to protect your legitimate revenue.

Xpeditor™

With Axis from Quadax, you will be armed with the processes, workflow and organization you need to even the playing field with the RACs and other audit organizations. Responding to audit requests can be costly in terms of time and resources—but a slow response, or none at all is even worse. Streamline your audit response workflow with flexible, powerful technology from a company you can trust. Axis will equip your team to meet audit challenges effectively and efficiently. Axis is a secure, hosted application that's easy to use, interfacing with your network to capture documentation required for analysis and appeals. Axis can be stand alone, or integrated into a complete Xpeditor transaction management system. Detailed tracking, configurable workflow, and management reporting give you full control.
