

Best in a Supporting Role Medical Necessity Datafiles

ENABLING YOUR SOFTWARE - EMPOWERING YOU

You understand the role of medical necessity verification and appropriate ABN collection in reducing Medicare denials and increasing revenue opportunities. And, you know that in the world of evolving medical practice and corresponding code changes, it's important to continually monitor the accuracy of the data you use to verify medical policy. After all, your software for checking medical necessity is only as good as the data that supports it.

If you're looking for a supplier of medical necessity data for your compliance or accounts receivable software, consider these questions:

- Is that data updated monthly?
- Is all local and national policy in one convenient file?
- Does that supplier have experience interpreting medical necessity policy?
- Can you rely on customer support when you have questions?

Subscribers to Medical Necessity Datafiles from Quadax can answer each of those questions with a resounding 'Yes!'

QUADAX IS QUALIFIED.

The Quadax difference is simple: we are our own biggest consumer. We rely on accurate, well-documented data for our EDI Clearinghouse and Managed Receivables operations, so our Medical Necessity policy team doesn't cut corners.

The Quadax team of billing experts thoroughly examines web sites, program memoranda, and other communications from Medicare contractors and CMS. Additions, changes, and deletions are entered and documented continually, carefully, with regard for the specificity of codes identified to the named procedure, and the relationship to other rules in the policy set. Our datafiles represent not only accuracy but also intelligence.

QUADAX MEANS QUALITY.
